Former Xavier Grid Star Says First Mass

The Reverend Benjamin J. Urmston, S.J., son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin D. Urmston, 7180 Hamilton Ave., will celebrate his first solemn high Mass at nine thirty o'clock on Sunday, June 21, at St. Margaret Mary Church, 1830 W. Galbraith Road, North College Hill, Ohio. A reception for the newly ordained priest will be held at St. Margaret Mary school hall from seven to nine o'clock on Sunday evening.

Fr. Urmston attended Xavier University in 1943 and was a halfback on the football team. In the army from 1943 to 1946, he served in Europe and Asia. On his return he entered the Society of Jesus and received four years of religious training and of classical studies at Milford Novitiate, Milford, Ohio. In 1950 he transferred to West Baden College, West Baden Springs, Ind., to begin his study of philosophy.

Rev. Benjamin Urmston, S.J.

From 1953 to 1956 Fr. Urmston was a member of the faculty of the University of Detroit High School, Detroit, Mich., where he taught English and Latin and was assistant moderator in the Sodality of Our Lady. In 1956 he returned to West Baden College for his theological studies.

Father has one brother, Kenneth Urmston, now living in New York. Ken, who also attended Xavier University, is a professional dancer and appeared on the Ed Sullivan show this winter.

After his Mass and reception Fr. Urmston will return to West Baden College for his final year of theological studies.

Chicago Trip Preludes Concert

Cleffers Sing At Rosary College

by Tom Cahill, News Associate Editor

Tomorrow morning the Clef Club is off to Chicago. Under the patronage of the Chicago Club of Xavier and the Xavier alumni in the Chicago area, the much-traveled glee club will join with the young ladies of Rosary College in singing their first concert of this type on Sunday evening, May 10.

A special program is to be presented with Franklin Bens, Xavier director, sharing the podium with the director of the Rosary choral group. Moderator Fr. Orrin Wheeler and the Clef Club officers have worked for Xavier, parents, alumni, faculty, and students, are not only invited but also encouraged to attend. Mention should be made right here that this dance is not restricted to the students alone. Everyone is welcome.

Some Members Of The Xavier University Clef Club

some months with Chicago area students in the hope that this will be a successful demonstration and the beginning of many more similar affairs.

The combined glee clubs will offer a musical tribute to Alan Jay Lerner and Fredrick Lowe with selections from "My Fair Lady." In addition, they will sing a hymn, "Let Thy Blessed Spirit," and a spiritual, "Plenty Good Room." Each glee club will also present a portion of their respective concert programs. Henri Don Lackey and his orchestra will play music for dancers only immediately following the concert. They will play until 1:30 a.m. Another special feature of this year's dance is the announcing of the five finalists in the Empress of Family Day Contest.

Tickets for the concert and dance are $3.00 a couple; tickets for the concert only are $1.00. These are available from the members of the club or in South Hall. This is the one time during the year when the Student Body

James Mooney

Golembiewski will be on hand to perform his piano duties as usual, as will Bob Marshal, soloist, and "The Chimes."

Returning to Cincinnati Monday morning, May 11, the Clef Club will have time enough to have their tuxedos pressed and their vocal chords sprayed for the annual Spring Concert and Dance on Friday, May 15 at 8:30 p.m. The Hall of Mirrors provides the setting for the official opening of Family Weekend at which time all friends of and the people of Cincinnati have an opportunity to hear this renowned musical group. The Clef Club has worked hard to present a program enjoyable to all. Friday, May 15 is the time for all to enjoy that program.

NOTICE

A recording will be made of the final Clef Club Concert. Anyone who wishes to buy a record should see Bob McLaughlin on or before Friday, May 15. The cost of the records is $3.00.

General Read Makes Initial Visit To Xavier

by Ed Stubenrauch

Lt. Gen. George W. Read, Jr., Commanding General of the Second United States Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, visited Xavier University May 5. This was General Read's initial visit to this campus.

Upon arrival at Lunken Airport, General Read was greeted by Lt. Col. Connolly, PMST, and a Pershing Rifles Honor Guard. After a conference with Col. Connolly, the General was guest of honor at an informal gathering attended by Father Ratterman, Father O'Callaghan, Mr. Vonderhaar, officers of the Xavier Military Department and Cadet Colonel Haas of the Xavier ROTC Regiment. General Read then toured local ROTC facilities.

After visiting the Military Department, General Read conferred with the Very Reverend Paul L. O'Connor, S.J., President of Xavier University, on ROTC matters within the Second Army area and particularly the program here at Xavier. The General then returned to Fort Knox, Kentucky where he is attending the 1959 Armor Conference.

Col. W. E. Grubbs Conducts Annual R.O.T.C. Inspection

Colonel William E. Grubbs, PMST of the University of Kentucky, headed a Board of Officers, appointed by XX US Army Corps, that conducted the annual Formal Inspection of the ROTC Regiment and Military Department here at Xavier on May 6.

All aspects of the local ROTC program were scrutinized with no major deficiencies being noted. The inspectors visited classes to observe instruction and questioned students on material covered during this academic year. Students were in uniform for all classes on this date.

Colonel Grubbs conferred with The Very Reverend Paul L. O'Connor S.J., President of Xavier and Reverend Henry J. Wirttenberger, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences on ROTC matters at this university.

A luncheon was held at noon for the visitors in the Blue Room of the Union Building. A number of university officials and the Military Department officers were on hand for this event.

A ceremony was conducted at 1:30 p.m. at which time Colonel Grubbs presented Department of the Army Superior Cadet Award Ribbons to: Cadet Lt. Col. Ronald M. Protz, MS IV; Cadet 2nd Lt. Rodney W. McMullen, MS III; Cadet Corporal J. Dennis Doherty, MS II; and Cadet Private First Class Emmett J. Kelleher, MS I.

SICK!

by R. Devereaux Vanek

Last year most of the college students had good excuses for not working all summer. The recession saved the day for a lot of us, but this year we may not be so lucky. If you want to avoid joining the army of the employed I have a few suggestions.

On the job application, where it says age, put 116. When you put down your height, put it in centimeters and your weight in grams. For references use names like Johnny Stompanato, the Marx Bros., and Emil Flaskgrn. If this can be done in a foreign language, do so by all means.

Now if the application isn't too closely checked, and you get as far as the personnel man, there are all kinds of ways to discourage him. If he extends his hand in a cordial manner grab his thumb in your left hand having it extend a slight bit over your fist. With your right hand smash the top of his finger. Of course if he merely asks you to sit down, do so with your legs folded under you on the chair in yogi fashion. You might not succeed in upsetting him if he is nearsighted, so the next step would be to immediately start asking him personal questions. Don't stop and let him interrupt until you know if there was any insanity in his family, what his nationality and denomination are,

and whether he has declared his politics—with reasons.

This on occasion may fail and you may be sent for a physical. Doctors are impatient so you shouldn't have any trouble flunking the exam. When the doctor tells you to strip to the waist, for the heart check, call him a lecherous disgrace to the medical profession and slap his face. You can wait till the eye test if the doctor seems the athletic type. When he shows you the letter chart tell him you see pictures of animals and space people that you've seen before. If you are genuinely afraid of doctors, sit on the receptionist's desk in the outer office and sing "Where Were You on Our Wedding Day" to her.

Your last hope if all of these fail is to louse up your job. All a caddy has to do is refuse to carry the clubs after 6 holes because he's tired. A gas station attendant can pour oil in the radiator to have his employer reconsider his choice. No matter what you do, you can easily cause disharmony among employees by starting rumors and constantly complaining.

If you succeed in remaining unemployed the battle is only half won. Now you will have to explain to people that you really aren't SICK.

Music Stand

by John Logsdon

Coney Island's Moonlite Gardens is now open for Saturday night dancing, and will operate on a Wednesday through Saturday basis beginning May 27. This is the best dance floor and most beautiful ballroom in the country, for my money, and this season most of the top bands in the country are due to play Moonlite.

Tomorrow night the Will Hauser orchestra and the Three Honeys, who performed so well at the Mardi Gras dance, are scheduled; on May 16, the Glenn-Millerish Tex Beneke band. Clyde Trask and the Four Coins will be in for two nights, May 22 and 23.

Charlie Kehrler begins the full dancing schedule on May 27, followed by Burt Farber, well-known around town for his piano work and lately Arthur Godfrey's musical director. On June 10 Jimmy James takes over the bandstand; Buddy Morrow follows on the 17th. The Tommy Dorsey orchestra, led by Warren Covington, which will play next year's Military Ball, are in on June 24.

The rest of the season includes such attractions as Stan Kenton, the Jimmy Dorsey band, Les Brown, Ralph Flanagan, Larry Elgart, Pee Wee Hunt, and Ralph Marterie. Looks like a great year for Cincy dancers!

Bill Berry, former trumpet player with the Maynard Ferguson, Herb Pomeroy, and Woody Herman bands, and now working with Dee Felice at the Blue Angel, has opened his own studio and is looking for students. Bill plans instruction in modern harmony, dance band arranging, and individual instruments. He also hopes to organize a workshop band where young musicians will get a chance to put the playing and arranging into practice. Anyone interested may contact Bill at the Blue Angel or by calling BI 1-3975.

Vocalist Lois Nemser and guitarist Don Miller won top awards in their fields in a "Midwest Collegiate Jazz Festival" held at Notre Dame recently. Judges for the contest included Charles Suber, publisher of DOWNBEAT, accordionist Art Van Damme, and Frank Holzfiend, owner of the Blue Note in Chicago. Groups from 16 colleges participated in this first annual event. Both Lois and Don perform at Jazz Bohemia and have just made a record of the songs which they did at Notre Dame, the record being available at Jazz Bohemia too.

Downtown, the ever-young George Lewis Dixieland band, just returned from a successful European tour, plays Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Sinton; the hard-driving Muriel Roberts trio is at the Gibson Girl for a month's stay.

PLATTER PICKS: It's "Jazz Festival Month" for Columbia Records and the Columbia people have issued a sampler containing selections by Duke Ellington, Gerry Mulligan, Lionel Hampton, Benny Goodman, Dave Brubeck, Miles Davis, J. J. Johnson, and several other artists who record for the label. The sampler is selling in most record stores for $98 ($1.29 if you want stereo) and would be a bargain at twice the price.

Also new on Columbia this month is "Golden Vibes," which features Lionel Hampton, minus his usual loud accompaniment.

LOSERS AGAIN?

Once again the dorm students of Xavier University appear to be well on their way to a victory in the contest to determine which group, "day-hops" or "dormies," dates the better looking, more personable girls.

At this sat stage of the contest, the dorm students greatly outnumber the Cincy-based men in the Empress of Family Day contest. They have submitted almost twice as many entries as have their day-student counterparts. This seems a bit ridiculous when you consider the fact that day-students outnumber dorm students here at Xavier by a margin of almost 3-2.

We can not help but wonder if the day students of this city have any male pride. If they do, they certainly aren't making any efforts to let it be shown. We also wonder if they are really as proud of the young ladies they date as they would have us believe.

The deadline for the contest has been extended to Wednesday, May 13, 1959. We remind all students that this will be the only time they will be able to enter their dates in such a contest. The Empress of Family Day honor is the only one of its kind open to any girl from any school, as long as she is the date of a Xavier man.

We will close with a question addressed to all Xavier men and to the day-hops in particular. Just how great is your pride in the girls you date, fellows?

One of the signs of an expert bridge player is his ability to set up and execute an end play. An end play, as its name indicates, occurs at the end of the play of the hand. It is effected by placing your opposition in the lead and thereby forcing him to lead into a tenace in your hand, thus finessing himself. The following hand describes this type of play very well.

Opening lead—Jack of Clubs by West—Dummy plays his deuce, East drops the five, and declarer wins with his ace.

Declarer immediately figures West for a long club suit. South now leads the four of spades and wins the trick in dummy with the Queen. Declarer now cashes his three remaining spade tricks. East follows suit throughout. West discards the three of diamonds and the four of clubs on the last two spade rounds. Dummy discards the four of hearts. South now leads the three of clubs and captures the trick with the queen of clubs in dummy, with East sluffing the two of diamonds. South has now confirmed the fact that West holds a long Club suit.

Declarer now cashes three diamond tricks ending up in the dummy. On the last diamond round, West discards the six of hearts. Declarer now has a pretty clear picture of the remaining card distribution. From the discards and the play, he deduces that West is holding two hearts and two clubs and that East holds four hearts. The end play is now definitely in sight.

He now leads the king of clubs from North, East discards the two of hearts, declarer plays the six of clubs, and West plays the nine. The avenue to victory is easy to follow from this point. Declarer leads the seven of clubs thus putting West into the lead and forces him to lead hearts into declarer's Ace-Queen tenace, and the contract is made. Note that the contract couldn't be set as East couldn't capture the club trick and with West leading, it made no difference if East or West held the king of hearts as declarer had last play.

STAGELIGHTS

by Stafford P. Mooney

If you want to be entertained by lofty, noble, and highly sophisticated music and drama, wait for the summer opera season, and, by all means, avoid the South Hall Theater for the next three nights.

Should you find yourself in the mood for some light-hearted musical comedy, however, drop in at the Masque Society's musical, "Piccola Pisa." I paid such a visit to the theater on the campus and was rather pleasantly surprised.

After a lively overture, the curtain opened and during the first few scenes the audience was treated to quite a bit of excellent costuming, scenery, and feminine pulchritude but such "trivial-essentials" were forgotten when a gent named John Lyons described America to a group of pretty young ladies in a song called "Tell Us About the U.S.A."

Lyons and a pert little gal named Maureen Stretch play the "cocktail guggling" socialite children of an Italian couple who return to their native land. The results of the homecoming are quite amusing. Terry (Maureen Stretch) is the real spoiled snob-bish brat of the family. The songs which best display her talents are a first act rhythmical blues number called "Nobody" and a show closer titled "Farewell to the Men."

The real show stopper, though, is a young Miss named Terry Froehle. This young lady from the Westwood area of Cincy has the voice and build of a combination Ethel Merman and Sophie Tucker. Her rendition of a "red-hot mama" type number called "There's Still Plenty of Life," brought cheers from an enthusiastic house. Putting it simply, the gal really sells a song.

Josie Guglielmi was another young lady who drew loud applause from the audience. She teamed with John Lyons as the one boy-girl team in two top-notch duets. A number entitled "In Your New Affair" was probably the better number.

There was a "first" for the Masque Society in that they added a ballet to their repertoire of "impossible tasks." All I can say for the ballet is give us more as long as the likes of Phyllis Tolwig acts as choreographer and prima ballerina. Add the combined grace and beauty of girls like Mary Ader or Ruth Schutte to the work of Jim Newell and others, and you have a pleasing effect.

No Masque production would be complete or possible without regulars like Tom Eckstein, Dixie "Slim" McBrayer, Kay Steelman, Dom Bernardi, Jim Dusablon, Mary Ann Martin, Jerry Simon, Alan Welch, Rose Henner, and many other unsung heroes. These people each contributed, some in a very large way, and others in a large manner. From my point of view, there were no small or bit parts.

Fr. John Reinke gave another sterling performance with the musical accompaniment. As a final comment, I might say that "Mr. Kvapil and crew" have another hit on their hands. You've only three nights left to enjoy the fun they offer.

Lionel, backed only by rhythm and an occasional comment from the reed section, glides skillfully through such standards as "My Funny Valentine," "Satin Doll," and "The High and the Mighty." Pleasant listening, especially for the late evening mood.

J. J. Johnson has been the top trombonist in jazz for four or five years now. In "Blue Trombone," Jay is joined by Max Roach, Paul Chambers, and

Tommy Flanagan in a happy blowing session where everybody gets plenty of solo room and uses it ably. Roach almost steals the album with his exciting drumming, but overall this is the kind of music which results from teamwork between top instrumentalists left to their own ideas. Tunes include "Hello Young Lovers," "Gone with the Wind," and the Xavier theme song, "100 Proof."

Speech Finals Tonight

Twelve Orate On Modern Education

by Fran McMannus

On Wednesday, April 29, twelve Xavier students verbally dissected and explored modern education. The occasion was the semi-finals of the Dean's Speech Contest, sponsored by the Dad's Club. The general topic was: "What Value Modern Education?" In answering this question, the speakers—the two best speakers from each Principles of Speech section—were free to take any sensible view, pro, con, humorous, or serious.

The purpose of the Dean's Speech Contest is to stimulate student interest in public speaking as an essential requirement of a university graduate. Bob J. McLaughlin, chairman and M.C., further explains, "The ability to speak in public is the mark of an educated man."

Of the twelve participating students, Patrick Kilfoil, Francis McManus, Albert Mechley, Gregory Schneider, John Conlon, Kenneth Klueh, James Mueller, John O'Connor, George Haas, Edward Schmidt, Angelo Loria, and Joseph Wesselkamper, six will contest in the finals which will be held at a series A convocation in the Armory May 8 at 1:30 p.m. Three trophies and two speaking certificates will then be awarded to the deserving men.

Xavier Lauded For Generous Patna Support

The Students of Xavier University
Evanston Station, Cincinnati, O.
Dear Men of Xavier:

The nice round sum of one thousand dollars which you sent to us last month arrived a few days ago, for which, thanks a million!

I assure you there are a hundred and one places where such a donation could be used to advantage, and I wish you could see how much good will be done because of the sacrifices you have made. And don't by any means underrate the sacrifices either! They are pure gold, when it comes to work for souls, and I know that with each dollar that was sent the sacrifices you have made came along too, and it will be the sacrifices which give the money added value.

The gratitude of the Patna Jesuits is always backed up with prayer. Every one who helped make it possible to send us such a donation will get a share in the spiritual return made by our Fathers here. There are regular prayers and Masses offered for our benefactors by the Fathers and the Xavier students certainly qualify for a large share.

Please pray for our work here in India. The labors undertaken for souls by each of us stand to profit greatly by the recommendation of good, zealous people like yourselves.

In my own name and that of all the Patna Jesuits, many thanks once again for your generosity and zeal. May God bless you.

MILITARY MUSINGS

Company G-1, Pershing Rifles, Xavier University, won the 10th Pershing Rifles Regimental Drill Meet at the University of Arizona, Tucson, Arizona on May 2, 1959.

Thirty-five (35) cadets entered this competition and were accompanied on the trip by Father Mark Hurtubise, Lt. Darryl E. McCartney and M/Sgt Earl A. Higgins.

The straight drill platoon commanded by Cadet M/Sgt Robert J. Kopecky took first place and the exhibition platoon, commanded by Cadet M/Sgt. Edward L. Kuntz, took first place. For winning the two first places, Xavier was awarded the "Sweepstakes" trophy, meaning the best team in the drill meet.

After the drill meet on Saturday morning, the entire company made a motor trip to Nogales, Mexico for the rest of the day, returning to Tucson late Saturday night.

Sunday, the team returned to Cincinnati, wearing sombreros, beating bongo drums, and snapping castanets, souvenirs from "South of the Border."

The trip was made by a USAF airplane from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio. Travel to and from Dayton was via chartered bus.

'Distinguished Student'

Fourteen MS III cadets were designated as "Tentative Distinguished Military Students." These persons were so designated because of their high standing in the Military Department both academically and from the standpoint of their military aptitude. In addition these students are in the upper half of their class in the university. If these students maintain their present standing and do as well at the ROTC camp at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, this summer they will be designated "Distinguished Military Students" at the beginning of their senior year.

Persons designated as "Tentative Distinguished Military Students" are: William J. Becker, Louis E. Busemeyer, Edwin C. Gerth, Robert J. Kopecky, Dale M. Kopinski, Edgar L. Kuntz, William L. Lamey, Robert N. Mallardi, Rodney W. McMullen, Robert S. Nawalaniec, James P.

Przybylinski, Stephen J. Snyder, Thomas N. Spaeth, and Thomas E. Young.

Strolling Artists To Visit Evanston Campus Soon

Sometime next week, strolling artists from the Cincinnati Art Academy will visit the Evanston Campus. Preferably on sunny days!

The artists will set up their stands at favorable locations and go about their painting. Xavier men are welcome to watch and discuss "les beaux arts" with these talented visitors.

Arrangements were made by the X.U. Fine Arts Committee through the courtesy of Mr. Herbert Barnet, dean of the Art Academy.

ROOM FOR OPTIMISM—

Jim McCafferty may be looking forward to the 1959-60 basketball campaign with as much anticipation as he greeted the past season.

This appears strange in view of the fact that next winter might aptly be called a time of rebuilding and that last winter was a hoped-for time of achievement.

But the '59-'60 cagers will have something going for them that the '58-'59 crew didn't—which may largely explain the McCafferty optimism. Next year's basketball schedule features 15 home games, four more than last winter.

In addition, the schedule has contracted to normality, after ballooning last year into a monster that nearly devoured its maker. The new slate is spiced neatly with "breathers," particularly in its early stages where it is hoped that the much-counted-on sophomore crop will get its varsity legs.

McCafferty has announced a schedule that is weaker than last year's, but not one that is second-rate. Competition will include St. Bonaventure, Cincinnati, Dayton, Miami (O.), Western Kentucky, Louisville, Marquette, Detroit and Seattle.

"Big Jim," entering his third year as Musketeer mentor, can point out several other items, besides the schedule, that contribute to his optimism. "We'll definitely have greater speed," says Mack. "We'll have a fine crop of sophomores, more competition for starting berths, which is a healthy situation, and two returning starters around which to build."

The returning regulars are guard and captain, "Ducky" Castelle and forward Ron Nicolai, who last season was the club's top rebounder.

"A great deal," contends McCafferty, "depends on whether Nicolai and Castelle can maintain the pace they set during the last half of the past season." Statistics compiled by X.U.'s publicity mill indicate that Castelle in the final eight games scored 16.6 points per game while shooting at a 40% clip. The aggressive Nicolai, over the final dozen or so games, tallied 9 points a game and averaged 11 rebounds.

Nicolai and Castelle, however, are the lone Muskies who can lay reasonable claim to a starting berth. Says Coach McCafferty of the other three first-string positions, "They're wide open. We hope for quite a battle over them."

The vacant guard post can go to any one of a number of candidates. Returning guards are Al Gundrum, Jim Haffner, Ricky Jannott and Tommy Malone. Not to be discounted in the least are Frosh graduates Billy Kirvin and Jim Enright who did nothing but impress last year. It goes without saying that McCafferty is talent-rich at the guards.

Up front, the open forward and center berths will either be filled from among Rich Piontek, Charlie Phillips, Ed Tepe and Bill Middendorf, the returning Musketeers, or by Sophomores-to-be Jack Thobe, Frank Pinchback, John Hannigan, Pete Schmeling and Jerry Antil.

Without a doubt the spirit of competition next winter will be keen. The team spirit, generally, will be better, the talent deep though in spots unproven, and the schedule human.

Next year's basketball should be interesting—but we won't say more. The limb we climbed out on last year cracked.

Tennis, Golf Teams Go On Road; Try To Pull Season Records Above .500 Mark

Bob Tomoff, who won his singles match, was Xavier's only winner. Monday, as the tennis team dropped an 8-1 decision to Cincinnati, making the season record 2-3.

Bob Peterson and Jack Adam, both singles winners, were the only Musketeers on the credit side last Friday as Dayton took a 7-2 win at Dayton.

Netmen Cop

Only two days earlier, Xavier has claimed a 5-2 win at Xavier as Peterson, Adam, Tomoff, Mike McConville and Tom Beerman all won single matches to pave the way to victory.

Bellarmino College defeated the netmen 6-3 last Thursday on the XU courts. Adam and Joe Jordan were the only singles winners, and teamed to win a doubles match.

Road Games

The netters are on the road for their net two matches, tackling Bellarmine Monday at Louisville and Miami Wednesday at Oxford.

A scheduled golf match with Dayton at Dayton Tuesday had to be postponed because, of all things, a stalled car. Joe Ziegler, who was driving the entire six-man contingent, developed car trouble halfway to Dayton. The postponement left the golfers' season record at 4-6.

Fort Knox Prevails

Fort Knox's golf team, strengthened by four pros, took a double decision from the Musketeer golfers last weekend, prevailing 20-7 Saturday and 21-6 Sunday.

First round Xavier scores were Joe Ziegler 75, 79's by Dick Baerman, Denny Delrose and Ed Jacob, Tony Conlon 80 and Rod McMullen 82.

Baerman and Jacob each carded 77's to pace XU in the second round, followed by Ziegler and McMullen with 80 and Conlon and Delrose with 82.

Linksmen Also Travel

The linksmen travel to Huntington, W. Va. tomorrow to meet Marshall. Monday will find the Musketeers in Columbus for the Ohio Intercollegiate Tourney.

The Musketeers, who finished 7th in a field of 14 last year, are given a "fairly good" chance of finishing in the money by Coach Ray Baldwin.

Batsmen Come Alive To Support Good Pitching By XU Moundsmen

by Hap O'Daniel, News Asst. Sports Editor

Denny Poillon's bases-loaded double, which plated three runs in the first inning, provided the spark as the Xavier baseballers avenged an earlier 11-0 defeat by downing Miami 6-3 Tuesday at Xavier.

Poillon's blast marked the first time this season that the Musketeers have had the lead first in a game. Every win thus far has been a come-from-behind effort.

The victory Tuesday was the Muskies' fourth straight and fifth in the last six games, raising their record to 6-9. Dick Strenk, who fanned seven, spaced ten hits for the win.

Terry Brannen, who doubled and singled, was the only Muskie with two safeties.

Dressmann Gains Win

After a shaky start, Bill Dressmann settled down to scatter nine hits and received credit for his second win as the Muskies bombed Villa Madonna 11-3 Monday at Xavier.

Dressmann received lusty hitting support from his mates, chiefly in the person of Jerry Wessels, who singled, doubled, and tripled to drive in four runs and score two himself.

Great Support

Mike Gallagher tripled and singled, John Gieske doubled and singled, Carl Labmeier singled twice, and Denny Poillon tripled to provide further support.

Haas Handles Bellarmine

George Haas twirled a two-hitter, striking out seven, to gain a 3-2 win over Bellarmine last Thursday at Xavier. The Muskies pushed across three unearned runs in the last of the 8th for the final margin.

Haas did not allow a hit after the third inning as both Bellarmine runs were also unearned. Labmeier created the most noise for Xavier as he poled a triple and single.

Cincy On Tap

Two road games face the Muskies next week as they journey across town to play Cincinnati Monday and head for Huntington to oppose Marshall Wednesday.

The true test of a good ball club comes on the road, and the Musketeers are anxious to prove that their winning way of the last two weeks hasn't been a fluke.

"If the hitters can continue their explosive pace and the defense holds up," says Coach Ruberg, "everything should come out all right."

Call Issued For Cute Coeds

Xavier University
Cincinnati 7, Ohio

Dear Xavier:

Once again, we're calling for your help in rounding up a series of candidates for our annual Campus Queen contest. As you know, SPORT publishes over the fall and winter months a roster of pretty coeds gleaned from a national search, and asks its readers to pick a winner. The contests have been well received among our readers and the colleges, over the past eight years. We hope to continue this success in the 1959-60 season.

If you have a pretty coed on the campus who will not graduate before June, 1960, please let us know. All we ask is that she have that outdoor American girl look, a pretty face and a handsome figure. If you have a candidate, would you kindly send us some good, glossy photos of her. We don't want studio-type sophisticated cheesecake or portrait jobs. What we do want are informal photos, with some kind of a campus background, giving us a good view of the gal's face and figure. We'd like her in casual, campus dress. If she is a cheerleader or drum majorette, we'd like photos of her in "uniform." If you could include the vital physical statistics and a brief outline of background data, we would be home free.

The first entry in our contest will run in the September issue (on sale in August). We are accepting entries now and will continue to do so for the next four months.

Many thanks for all your past help and I hope you can supply us with a pretty candidate.

Best wishes,
Steve Gelman
Associate Editor
SPORT Magazine

Ed's Note:

Gentlemen of Xavier. Little exhortation should be necessary to urge you to back a Xavier "Campus Queen" candidate. The pride of the university is at stake. The faith of the Evening College girls in us hangs in the balance.

We must prove to those Americans who bask in the sun of ignorance that Xavier has the World's Most Beautiful Women. Urge your gals of the Evening College to send us their photos. Encourage the reluctant.

And, girls, don't be shy. If proof of our claim is called for, prove it we must. Send a snapshot to the News, care of Xavier University, as quickly as possible. Selection procedure will be announced in next week's issue, by which time a procedure will be formulated.

Coach Deeb Quits, Takes Head Job At Newport Catholic

Norman Deeb, line coach at Xavier, resigned Tuesday to accept the head coaching job at Newport Catholic High School.

Deeb, a native of Shelbyville, Ky. and a former standout tackle at Eastern Kentucky, held the position but one year. He came to Xavier last August as a replacement for Jack Gearding, who resigned last spring.

The results of Coach Deeb's quiet but able tutelage are borne out by the fact that the Musketeer defensive line allowed foes an average of only 101 yards rushing per game last fall.

In his first official move, Deeb hired graduating Xavier quarterback Ralph Lane as his assistant. Xavier Freshman Coach Ed Biles has been offered the vacated Xavier line coach job.

Dayhop-Dorm Track Meet Set For Next Thursday

Intramural Director Don Ruberg has set the date of the second annual dayhop-dorm track meet for next Thursday, May 14 at 3:45.

Last year the dorm students won almost by default, as only a handful of dayhops turned out for the meet. The dorm students won every event.

Events to be run off include the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes, a 440-yard relay, the broad jump, high jump, and shot put.

Ruberg has supplied the list of last year's winners, who naturally qualify as record-holders, to give this year's entrants something at which to shoot.

100 yard dash: Sal Ricotta and Bill Ireton, :11.4

220 yard dash: Jim Prendiville, :25.9

440 yard dash: Walt Wilson and Bob Whelan, :55

Broad Jump: Jim Prendiville, 17'7"

High Jump: Eugene Tomczak, 5'2" Shot Put: Joe Schroeder, 37'2"

'59-'60 Cage Slate Has 15 Home Contests

Head Basketball Coach James J. McCafferty yesterday announced a 1959-60 cage schedule that includes 15 home games and 10 opponents not encountered in 1958-59.

Twelve contests will be played in Schmidt Memorial Fieldhouse and three in the Cincinnati Garden. Fieldhouse opponents include Marquette, Seattle, Western Kentucky, Miami and Regis. Garden opponents will be Cincinnati, Louisville and Dayton.

The ten fresh clubs on the schedule, some former Xavier foes, are Marion, Bellarmine, St. Bonaventure, The Citadel, St. Mary's, New Mexico, Creighton, Loyola (Chicago), Portland and Regis.

Another addition has been the Hurricane Basketball Classic to be played December 28 and 29 at Miami, Fla. Contending with Xavier in the four team tourney will be Brigham Young, Miami (Fla.), and Florida U.

Fans Crowd Grassy Athletic Field As Spring Brings IM Softball To Xavier

by Hap O'Daniel,

Spring, the season of sweltering, simmering, and sedentary days spent under the bright beams of Old Sol, has arrived at Xavier of Ohio with much the same effects which it causes on other hallowed campuses throughout the country.

Here at Xavier, however, a tradition exists which has become an integral part of the way of life in the springtime. Every evening, after the sun has slowly disappeared behind the trees which shelter the modern Armory, the medieval Fieldhouse, and the ancient Union Hall, two lines form at right angles down on the bald, hard surface of the athletic field.

These two lines, two quivering masses of humanity, are gathering to cheer, or deride, their favorite teams in the institution known as intramural slow-pitch softball.

For the student who has just polished off a hearty meal in the cafeteria and desires an hour either of rest or exercise before retiring to the relative quiet of his dormitory room to study, this sport provides the answer.

Two battles are waged almost every evening on the green (brown) of the Athletic Field, attended and enjoyed in various degrees of seriousness by the students who crowd the sidelines to "kid" the participants. ("Kid" is used here for the sake of propriety; Xavier students have a much more appropriate four-letter word.)

Although the intramural program is well-conducted and the leagues are run in all seriousness, many humorous aspects are present. A classification of the various types, both of participants and fans, will point this out.

The umpire who tries to please everybody (the pacificator) ends up pleasing no one, while the umpire who rules with an iron hand (the dictator) is quite unpopular.

The sideline fans present another interesting study. Here are found the "experts," the "kid-ders," and, of course, those who can do better than the players playing, but who never seem to prove themselves in actual competition.

Because the ball is delivered with a high arc, any ball which is either undercut or topped takes off with a great deal of spin. Some of the hits, therefore, are of the "bloody" variety.

Home-runs in this league, however, are usually well-earned. Because there are four outfielders, and because the ball is usually hit in the air, the hit must usually be a good long shot between two fielders.

Errors, of course, can usually, and often do, facilitate a player's making a complete, and often short-winded, journey around the bases.

Pitching is, of course, the backbone of slow-pitch softball. Truly the class of the league when it comes to hurling is Don Ober-ting, a 6-6, 295-pound right-hander with a wide assortment of deliveries. Xavier's version of the "Big O" has a 2-0 record.

The Cincinnati Redlegs might fancy themselves a power team, but the balance of power is to be found on this campus, where games are won by decisive scores like 19-16 and so on. As was stated before, pitching usually makes the difference.

In a more serious vein, here are the results of games played since the league opened:

Bombers 3, Elet II 1
O.C. Boys 13, Bear's Boys 0
Elet III 10, Bombers 5
Elet II 16, Elet Annex 5
Acolkhmkms 2, O.C. Boys 0
Acolkhmkms 15, Tourists 10

Band Features Concert, May 16

by Frank Hulefeld

On Saturday, May 16, the XU Band will present its annual Family Day Concert. The theme for the concert will be music as found on Broadway—everything from show tunes to swing and classics.

The Band Concerts of the past have drawn many favorable comments. One of the comments about last year's concert came from Mr. Elmer Fenton, who was the chairman of Family Day. Mr. Fenton said, "The program you prepared was one of the finest . . . and certainly the highlight of the day." The band is attending night rehearsals in order to make this year's concert the equal of last year's.

The concert, which will be held in the Armory at 7:30, will feature a number of soloists. The guest soloist—for the third consecutive year—will be Fr. Reinke. At a concert held two years ago in the Fieldhouse, Fr. Reinke became the first priest to play with a symphony orchestra. He is scheduled to perform again with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra next season. At the Band Concert, Fr. Reinke will play two numbers. Anyone who attended the last two concerts will certainly remember his performances and won't want to miss hearing him this year.

The other soloists will be remembered for their performance at the Sodality show, "Time For Music." They are Bob Schaffstein, Bob Sullivan, Jim Greaney, and Phil Grib. Also on the program are two numbers for a mixed choral group composed of students from XU, OLC, and the Mount.

Sunday, May 17, the band will play selections from its concert on TV, bringing its concert season to a close.

A Special Feature Just What Is "BEAT"?

by E. S. Edelman

Who beat? What beat? How beat? Had not Time magazine appropriated the word, the question would be simple to answer. For beat once univocal is analogous and to different people will be different things—all things to all men. To philosophers like Bernard Geudreau, the beat philosophy, while not explicit is implicitly rejected in value judgments which reveal a Kantian ethic—(which seems to come down to Prandillo's "Right you are, if you think you are.") An economist would see the beat generation as the logical offshoot of a confiscatory tax-rate, the vanishing opportunity for investment, and inability to accumulate primary capital. Sociology would interpret its phenomenon in the light of a maturing—i.e. solidifying society whose increase stratification inhibits vertical social movement.

Beat is more easy to define by negatives—in its own parlance. To be beat is to be not square, not hung-up, not hincty. Thus a beatnik is one who is a critic of the stifling American Way—the square way. He is mobile—not tied down by responsibility or society. He is cool—willing to take life as it comes along without too much concern—not hincty. To him life is a challenge—for sensitivity, and understanding requiring effort and courage. If he does not wish to compete, it does not mean that he is defeated, but rather that he feels he is riding out life in a more sensible way—the planned failure of the American middle class. He will fight contingency in his own way. While they can't stop our civilization from pouring water on its clay feet, at least they have rolled up their pants.

Where once the "beat generation" was subject of lampoon and cartoon, it has gained many sympathetic adherents. (Perhaps this marks its decadence. It has become the property of the scholars.) People who are unwilling to take on the accidents of a stereotyped bohemianism, find value in the beatniks' social criticism—which reflects America's general self-critical attitude.

While its hidden philosophers speak, its authors run in streams of consciousness. Kerouac's four novels, Clellou, Holmes, Go, Go, Go, and Symbolist influenced poets Rexroth, Snyder, Ginsberg, and Corso to give insight into what, how, and who the beats be and see.

SCHULTZ IS

A MANY SPLENDORED THING

Beppo Schultz, boulevardier, raconteur, connoisseur, sportsman, bon vivant, hail fellow well met—in short, typical American college man—smokes today's new Marlboros.

"Why do you smoke today's new Marlboros, hey?" a friend recently asked Beppo Schultz.

"I smoke today's new Marlboros," replied Beppo, looking up from his 2.9 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car, "because they are new."

"New?" said the friend. "What do you mean—new?"

"I mean the flavor's great, the filter's improved, the cigarette is designed for today's easier, breezier living," said Beppo.

"Like this 2.9 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car?" asked the friend.

"Exactly," said Beppo.

"She's a beauty," said the friend, looking admiringly at the car. "How long have you had her?"

"It's a male," said Beppo.

"Sorry," said the friend. "How long have you had him?"

"About a year," said Beppo.

"Have you done a lot of work on him?" asked the friend.

"Oh, have I not!" cried Beppo. "I have replaced the pushrods with a Roots type supercharger. I have replaced the torque with a synchromesh. I have replaced the tachometer with a double side draft carburetor."

"Gracious!" exclaimed the friend.

"I have replaced the hood with a bonnet," said Beppo.

"Land o' Goshen!" exclaimed the friend.

"And I have put gloves in the glove compartment," said Beppo.

"It's a male," said Beppo.

"My, you have been the busy one," said the friend. "You must be exhausted."

"Maybe a trifle," said Beppo, with a brave little smile.

"Know what I do when I'm tired?" said the friend.

"Light a Marlboro?" ventured Beppo.

"Oh, pshaw, you guessed!" said the friend, pouting.

"But it was easy," said Beppo, chuckling kindly. "When the eyelids droop and the musculature sags and the psyche is depleted, what is more natural than to perk up with today's new Marlboro?"

"A great new smoke with better 'makin's' and a great new filter!" proclaimed the friend, his young eyes glistening.

"Changed to keep pace with today's changing world!" declared Beppo, whirling his arms in concentric circles. "A cigarette for a sunnier age, an age of greater leisure and more beckoning horizons!"

Now, tired but happy, Beppo and his friend lit Marlboros and smoked for a time in deep, silent contentment. At length the friend spoke. "He certainly is a beauty," he said.

"You mean my 2.9 litre L-head Hotchkiss drive double overhead camshaft British sports car?" asked Beppo.

"Yes," said the friend. "How fast will he go?"

"Well, I don't rightly know," said Beppo. "I can't find the starter."
